

PLANNING FOR 2022

The end of the school year is upon us! Our year at Bellavista S.H.A.R.E was packed with professional development and our courses, talks, and webinars have been well attended. Thank you for being a part of this growing community, so that we can ultimately care for, assist and help the next generation as best we can. We have exciting events lined up for 2022 with both local and international speakers as we seek to bring you content that relies on evidence-based practice and up-to-date research. Term One events are open for bookings.

TERM ONE WORKSHOPS ON SITE

As we become familiar with the new normal, we will return as far as possible to onsite workshops, adhering to strict protocols. This means limited spaces apply, but it also gives the opportunity for hands-on learning. Have a look at our Term One offerings.

WEBINARS

We are so excited to share our webinar topics for Term One with you. Our first webinar is absolutely FREE! It talks to the ethos of what Bellavista believes in, which is the development of cognitive ability, and the belief system it holds in that cognition is not fixed, but that it can shift with the right level of mediation. The second webinar is presented by Professor Venter, who will explore ADHD with us and discuss new medications available to manage this condition. If literacy is your thing, you are in for a treat with our third webinar hosting international speaker, researcher, and writer Louisa Moats, who will be talking to us all the way from the USA.

COURSES

This 18-month part-time course is open to teachers, speech and language therapists, occupational therapists, and psychologists who have two years of experience working with school-aged learners. The course provides a deep understanding of literacy development, literacy difficulties, and dyslexia. It also provides participants with tools for the assessment of literacy difficulties and risk for dyslexia and provides evidence-based intervention strategies with the support of individual tutoring. The course is offered through a blended learning model, consisting of virtual lectures and online coursework. Registration is open, and the course starts in January 2022.

If the full course is not for you, or you don't meet the course entry requirements, join our 10-week series. This course provides a Deeper Understanding of Reading and Dyslexia to gain insight into reading difficulties and dyslexia. It focuses on the definitions and causality and looks broadly at co-occurring difficulties and the impact that dyslexia has on learning. The reading brain and the acquisition of reading and language will also be explored. Practical, evidence-based reading strategies and tools on teaching methods will be learned.

We will also be doing this course in Afrikaans! The 'Toekenning in Geletterdheid en Disleksie' runs over 12 months, starting in May 2022. Registration open in March 2022.
